REACHING OUT

The University of Malta Research and Innovation Trust (RIDT) is carving a path that calls for individuals, business, and corporations to move beyond incremental benevolence and to dare, to dream and to design a whole new way forward for Malta.

For more details on how to support RIDT initiatives visit ridt.org.mt or find us on social media.

MORE POST GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS

In the past months, the University of Malta issued calls for a number of PhD Scholarships in Breast Cancer Research and Child & Family Centred Care. These scholarships were facilitated by RIDT through the generous support of Europa Donna Malta and Hili Ventures Ltd respectively.

The selected students will be announced in the coming weeks.

PINK OCTOBER 2023

This year, RIDT launched a social media Pink October awareness campaign promoting support for Cancer Research at the University of Malta. Consequently, there were a number of donations supporting the cause which included St. Joseph (Mater Bonii Consigli) School, Radisson Blu Golden Sands Resort & Spa, and a number of donations by individuals.

PAYROLL GIVING

The Staff Contribution Scheme for the University of Malta and Junior College staff members was launched by the RIDT in January 2015. Staff members are encouraged, on a voluntary basis, to make a regular donation of a small amount of money which will be automatically deducted from their salaries.

In the coming weeks there will be a revamping of the scheme to support further research at the University of Malta. Find out more...
